Cedar Fencing

0/2009 - 2024

Solid Style

Solid Style Cedar Fencing provides both security and privacy for your pets, children, and yard belongings.

Finishing options include dog-eared boards, gothic-top posts, cedar post caps, and cedar top cap.

Picture Frame

Cedar boards are installed between the posts, with rails placed at the top and bottom of the fence. Like a Solid Style fence, the cedar boards are placed with a minimal gap to allow for expansion and contraction. Overlapped boards are optional.

Most Popular

Horizontal

The new, modern standard, horizontal fencing helps you stand out in your neighborhood. Horizontal, cedar fencing can be made custom in a variety of ways. Discuss your options with a Rick's salesperson to have a fence as unique as you and your home.

Rick's Standard Cedar Styles

Rick's offers many options of standard styles to choose from and customize to your home. We also have Custom in our name for a reason! If you have a style you want to bring to life for your home, ask your Rick's sales rep for help with your dream design!

Good Neighbor

With a Good Neighbor fence, cedar boards are installed on alternating sides of the rails, giving the fence the same appearance from both sides.

Finishing options include dog-eared boards, gothic-top posts, cedar post caps, and cedar top cap.

Picket

Built with cedar boards in four-inch widths, a cedar Picket fence has three available height options: 3', 42", and 4'.

Available in traditional pointed picket, ornate gothic top, or dog-eared.

Lattice Top

Constructed in either Solid Style, Good Neighbor, or a Picture Frame variant, a lattice is added for a decorative touch.

Square, diagonal, or catalina lattice options available.

Trellis

A trellis is a fantastic addition to your fence or gate. Made with cedar 2x8's and 2x2's standard. Have something special in mind? Talk with a salesperson for a design consultation. Small or large, a trellis elevates any fence.
